DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

1. This Office Action is in response to the amendment filed December 5, 2006. Claims 1, 53 and 87 have been amended. Claims 88-130 have been added. Claims 1-130 are pending and are subject to the Election/Restriction requirement below.

Election/Restrictions

2. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
  - I. Claims 1-52, 88-108 and 117-130, drawn to a method for reforming alcohol using a copper coated metal sponge support catalyst, classified in class 423, subclass 248.
  - II. Claims 53-87 and 109-116, drawn to a method for producing electricity from a fuel cell, including reforming alcohol to be used as fuel on a metal support catalyst having copper at its surface, classified in class 429, subclass 34.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

3. Inventions II and I are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the combination, the fuel cell method, does not require that the copper coated metal sponge supported catalyst be made by a process including leaching aluminum from an alloy comprising aluminum and a base metal. The subcombination has separate utility such as a method for producing hydrogen to be used in operations other than for use in a fuel cell. For example, hydrogen may be used to steam reform hydrocarbons.

The examiner has required restriction between combination and subcombination inventions. Where applicant elects a subcombination, and claims thereto are subsequently found allowable, any claim(s) depending from or otherwise requiring all the limitations of the allowable subcombination will be examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. See MPEP § 821.04(a). Applicant is advised that if any claim presented in a continuation or divisional application is anticipated by, or includes all the limitations of, a claim that is allowable in the present application, such claim may be subject to provisional statutory and/or nonstatutory double patenting rejections over the claims of the instant application.

4. Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious burden on the examiner if restriction is not required because the inventions have acquired a separate status in the art in view of their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

5. Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious burden on the examiner if restriction is not required because the inventions require a different field of search (see MPEP § 808.02), restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

6. Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious burden on the examiner if restriction is not required because the inventions have acquired a separate status in the art due to their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

7. This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species: in claims 91, 92, 102, 103, 110, 111, 128 and 129, the base metal material. The species are independent or distinct because they are drawn to different materials or combinations.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, claims 1, 101, 109 and 127 are generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowable generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species.

MPEP § 809.02(a).
